BLOODSHED IN CHICAGO

Widespread Rioting Begins Early in the Day and Lasts Well into the Night.

One Man Is Killed and Scores Wounded as Result of the Bitter Feeling Existing in the Teamsters Strike. More Fighting Is Expected Today.

CHICAGO, May 2.—The death of one man and the injury of scores of others was the immediate result of today's fighting between the striking teamsters and their sympathizers on the one side and the police and the non-union men on the other.

There were riots in all parts of the city. Men were clubbed and stoned almost to death within a square of police headquarters and five miles away men were shot down in the streets.

At a hundred places between these two extremes of distance there were assaults and fights in the streets.

Blood was shed on State street, in the heart of the fashionable shopping district and furious riots took place almost in the doorways of the leading hotels. Non-union men were pelted with stones, bricks and every other conceivable sort of missiles. They were dragged from their wagons, beaten, clubbed and stamped on. The mobs that followed the wagons on which they rode were ugly in the extreme and but for the splendid service rendered by the police the list of dead would be 20 instead of one.

Non-Union Men Shoot.

In return the non-union men, although hopelessly outnumbered in every struggle, fought desperately. In several instances they drew revolvers and emptied them into the crowds that pressed around their wagons, pelting them with stones and threatening their lives. The colored drivers especially were quick with their weapons. Large numbers of the non-union drivers carried heavy clubs and they swung them with terrible effect throughout the day.

As far as can be ascertained the list of injured numbers in the neighborhood of 40, but it is far short of being accurate. Many men who were in the mobs that attacked the wagons went down before the clubs of the police and of the wagon guards, but they were carried away by their friends and there is no chance of learning their names or of even guessing at their number.

The outlook for tomorrow is for more fighting and there is not the slightest evidence of the approaching end of the strike.

More Night Rioting.

During a riot tonight at Halsted and Erie streets, which lasted for an hour and in which fully 1,000 people were engaged, three policemen and three non-union drivers were injured and twice as many rioters were clubbed. The riot commenced when four wagons of the Peabody Coal company, manned with non-union men, left the Richter Picture Frame factory after delivering coal.

The wagons went south along Halsted street and their appearance on that thoroughfare was the signal for the formation of a mob which pressed closely around them, threatening the drivers. The escort of police was compelled several times to charge into the crowd and use their clubs. There were repeated fights between the police and the mob, but the storm of missiles grew fiercer as the crowd increased in numbers, and finally the police and the drivers were compelled to draw their revolvers.

The crowd paid no attention to this and finally Sergeant Sullivan in command of the detail ordered his men and the non-union men to fire over the heads of the crowd. This, when done several times in succession, compelled the crowd to give way and then it finally dispersed.

Policemen Hit by Stones.

Policemen Wiley Lorch and Keenan were injured by stones and Harry Williams, John Johnson and Andrew Jackson, non-union drivers, were cut and bruised by the missiles hurled by the crowd.

Shortly before midnight Michael McNamara, a union teamster, was shot twice in the leg by F. K. Buckminster, employed by the Employers' Teaming company. Buckminster and several men who were with him declared that McNamara was one of a crowd of strikers that had attacked them. Buckminster had $1,500 in his hands which he was taking to the barns of the company to pay off his men and he thought the attack was made with the intention of securing the money. McNamara declares that he and his friends were walking along the streets when Buckminster shot him without provocation. His wounds are serious but not fatal.

DISSENSIONS AMONG THOSE OPPOSED TO THE TEAMSTERS

CHICAGO, May 2.—The strike situation in Chicago assumed a peculiar aspect today and tonight the interests which have been opposing the striking teamsters are not as united as heretofore.

The cause of this slight dissension is the Team Owners' association which has contracts with the railroads and many of the large firms throughout the city to transfer their merchandise.

Until today it was supposed that the Employers' association and their allies were firmly bound together in the fight for supremacy against the teamsters.

The Team Owners association, which employs none but union teamsters, flatly refused this afternoon to make deliveries to any of the firms now involved in the strike, when ordered to do so by the Employers' association. When the Employers received this ultimatum they notified the Team Owners that unless they recognized the request that no discrimination be made in deliveries, an effort would be made to have all existing contracts between the Team Owners and the business houses and the railroads canceled.

Railroads Refuse Support.

The railroad men, contrary to the hopes of the members of the Employers association, did not exert the influence on the Team Owners that was expected. They took practically the same stand, decl[illegible]ing that the fight was something into which the railroads did not purpose to enter; that they had contracts with the Team Owners, that those contracts were at present being fulfilled to their entire satisfaction and they could see no reason why the railroads should be dragged into the struggle.

The Commission Team Owners association and the Lake Transportation Team Owners association have also taken a similar stand to that of the Chicago Team Owners association. Five thousand men will be added to the police force tomorrow and will be put on strike duty as rapidly as they are needed. Nine hundred of them will be placed on State street alone.

Judge Kohlsaat of the United States court at the request of the attorneys representing seven express companies today issued a temporary injunction restraining all persons from interfering with the wagons of the plaintiffs or the men employed upon them.

Fighting in the Streets.

The fighting today in the streets was [illegible] sympathizers attacked the non-union men at every opportunity, assailing them with bricks, stones, clubs, knives and any other weapon upon which they could lay their hands.

The fighting occurred in the heart of the business section of the city, men being shot down within 200 feet of the retail store of Marshall Field & Co., and clubbed nearly to death at the corner of the Auditorium hotel in plain view of hundreds of ladies, who were compelled to run from the mob to save their own lives.

In many instances men walking along the streets, who had no active connection whatever with the strike were assaulted by boodlums, who beat them first and then later accused them of being strike breakers.

A notable instance of this kind was that of Rev. W. K. Wheeler, pastor of the Ninth Presbyterian church who, while passing the corner of Desplaines and Adams street on his way to the Pennsylvania station, was attacked by three men who knocked him down and beat him unmercifully, until the arrival of the police saved him from critical injury. Mr. Wheeler managed to hold one of his assailants until the police could arrest him.

Colored Waiter Beaten.

William A. Miles, a colored waiter, while at work in a lunch room at Adams and Sangamon streets, half a mile from any former scene of violence during the strike, was also a victim of the strikers' fury although he had no connection whatever with the trouble. He was accused of being a strike breaker, was pounded on the head with clubs, knocked down and trampled on. Miles was rescued by a hospital where his injuries were pronounced severe.

As far as known but one man was killed during the day. The list of injured is much greater than it would be if it is possible to obtain it. In many cases the non-union men were using their clubs with great effect, knocking men from their wagons headlong into the street. In what instances when assaulted by mobs they fired point blank into the crowds and it is difficult to see how the members of the mob could escape with many broken heads or how the bullets fired should have gone wild.

WILSON PLEASED IN PRAISE OF PUEBLO

FORMER CITY DETECTIVE IS ARRAIGNED CHARGED WITH REGISTRATION FRAUDS AT LAST ELECTION.

PUEBLO, Colo., May 2.—E. H. Wilson, former city detective of Pueblo and at present deputy game warden of the state, was placed on trial in the district court today after various delays in the case against him.

He is charged with fraudulent registration during the last general election in Pueblo county. In connection with the case is the charge that the chief witness for the prosecution, Mrs. Blanche Shaw, was abducted prior to the last time the trial was set.

With Wilson are named former County Clerk W. T. Fairfax and Postmaster N. S. Walpole. The latter is sick in a hospital and did not appear in court today. The defense made an unsuccessful effort at the opening of the trial to secure a change of venue but the motion was overruled by Judge J. H. Voorhees, who is presiding.

The work of selecting a jury required the remainder of the day and tonight an additional panel of 40 names was drawn. It is expected that the jury will be completed tomorrow and that the case will proceed rapidly, as thorough preparation has been made by both sides. The case against Wilson will be the first to be tried.

CASE AGAINST CAMPBELL DISMISSED

CASE OF FRANK J. CAMPBELL ET AL VS. GOLDEN CYCLE MINING COMPANY IS DISMISSED.

DENVER, May 2.—The case of Frank J. Campbell et al against the Golden Cycle company was dismissed for want of jurisdiction today by a decision of Judge Riner received from Chicago. The case was heard by Judge Riner sitting in Denver during the absence of Judge Moses Hallett, of the United States district court.

Campbell and other stockholders of the company asked for an injunction against the Golden Cycle Mining company, the Theresa Gold Mining company, John T. Milliken, H. N. McGinty, Louis Heim, A. T. Holman and L. E. Hill to restrain them from proceeding in a suit now pending in the United States circuit court in which the Theresa Gold Mining company is plaintiff and the Golden Cycle Mining company defendant. The Golden Cycle Mining company is the owner of the premises and property.

The Theresa Gold Mining company claimed certain ore bodies within the Golden Cycle company's territory by reason of reputed apex rights.

WARSAW REPORT OF DEATHS.

The Only Thing That Prevented Further Trouble in Warsaw.

DEATH ROLL IS 62

FROM THE MAY DAY DISTURBANCES IN WHICH TROOPS FIRED INTO CROWDS IN THE STREETS.

WARSAW, May 2, 9:10 p. m.—The May-day death roll stood 62 including left persons who died in the hospitals during the night. Probably 200 were wounded.

Crowds gathered at the north district police station this morning where 30 victims, men and women, and three children were awaiting identification. Some rioting occurred today in different sections of the city but no casualties have yet been reported.

Soldiers Were Nervous.

All day long infantry and cavalry patrolled the streets which were crowded with people who did not spare their curses (what was generally termed unnecessary slaughter. The popular indignation could not be concealed. The soldiers evidently were nervous and upon outbreaks resulting in a repetition of yesterday's terrible work were apparently inserted by the evident desire of the authorities to prevent a clash, coupled with the fear inspired by the soldiers' bullets. The population is most bitter against the military and the government officials expect dire attempts at revenge upon the officers commanding the troops, all of whom are known.

The Polish press is silent on the subject of yesterday's happenings. The official Russian paper prints a short and entirely inaccurate report. The governor general of Warsaw is said to be greatly upset by the turn of affairs.

The Nationalists have arranged unusual demonstrations for tomorrow, the 14th anniversary of the proclamation of the Polish constitution and disturbances are highly probable.

Workmen in Ugly Mood.

The workmen are in an ugly and uncertain mood. The workmen in all the factories struck today and great efforts are being made to bring about a general strike, but this is not likely to be successful. The people have not yet recovered from the exhaustion and losses resulting from the last strike.

Reports received regarding the beginning of yesterday's encounter in Jerusalem street. According to the most generally accepted version the authorities had forbidden workmen marching in procession to carry red flags but the work was decided to ignore the order. When the procession reached Jerusalem street the police ordered the workmen to stop but they refused to do so and a police officer thereupon fired a revolver, giving a signal for the infantry to fire. It appears that in other cases the demonstrators were the aggressors but that in this instance the soldiers fired first.

Strike Movement Grows.

The industrial population are deeply exasperated over the sanguinary results of yesterday's encounters. The strikes inaugurated on a large scale here, at Lodz and other cities are rapidly spreading and 75,000 persons are on strike in Lodz. Cossacks are patrolling the streets of Warsaw by companies on account of the danger to smaller detachments.

A great crowd, which gathered today in front of the police station to which the corpses of the killed on Monday had been taken and demanded the bodies of their dead, was dispersed by Cossacks.

According to an official statement the dead, not including those of the wounded, who died in hospitals, numbered 31.

The majority of the dead were working people.

In Lodz, according to an official report, four women were killed.

PARIS, May 2.—James Stokes, of New York, today informed the St. Petersburg delegates to the world's conference of the Y. M. C. A. that he would purchase and equip a large building in St. Petersburg. The investment will cost him about $75,000.

GREECE HAS LOWERED THE GREEK FLAG

CRETANS WANT TO UNITE WITH GREECE BUT MEET WITH OPPOSITION.

A DETACHMENT OF BRITISH TROOPS TAKES DECISIVE ACTION AT REQUEST OF FOREIGN CONSULS.

LONDON, May 3.—With reference to the dispatch from Rome giving a report of a serious insurrection in Crete, dispatches from Canea do not record any new developments except that the foreign consuls in the island presented a note to the Cretan government demanding that it haul down the Greek flags from government buildings. This having been refused, a British detachment yesterday lowered the Greek flags from the government house at Candia and Kerino, hoisting the Cretan flag with the consuls. The population is tranquill.

A dispatch to a news agency from Canea says that Prince George has notified the powers that he does not admit the possibility of the proposed union of Crete with Greece.

ROME, May 2.—A report from Crete which hitherto has made little of the situation in that island is very grave. The insurrection having taken the character of brigand methods with theft, murder, incendiarism and outrages upon women.

The local force being inadequate to cope with the situation, Prince George himself has asked Italy and another protective power to adopt energetic measures and send a battalion each to check the insurrection, which only nominally has for its object the union of the island with Greece. The representatives of the protective powers have decided to use force to maintain the status quo.

GAS WORKS PROPOSITION

AGITATION AGAINST PROPOSITION TO LEASE FOR 75 YEARS FOR $25,000,000—PROPOSED CITIZENS SYNDICATE.

PHILADELPHIA, May 2.—As a result of the agitation against the leasing of the Philadelphia gas works to the United States Gas Improvement company for a term of 75 years for $25,000,000, the finance committee of the city council today decided to postpone action on the plan and consider a proposition made by the Philadelphia North American. When the lease proposition was introduced in council it was explained that the city was in immediate need of $2[illegible] and for that reason the city would have to lease the gas works for a long term of years.

The newspaper proposition is that time be given to citizens to form a syndicate which shall pay to the city $25,000,000 in the same manner as proposed in the lease.

HAYS' CASE GOES TO JURY TODAY

ARGUMENTS ARE NOW CLOSED AND RECORDER GOFF WILL CONCLUDE INSTRUCTIONS BEFORE NOON.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The fate of Nan Patterson in her third trial for the murder of Caesar Young will be in the hands of the jury early tomorrow. Assistant District Attorney Rand completed the closing arguments for the prosecution shortly before 5 o'clock this afternoon and the court adjourned for the day. Recorder Goff announced that he would charge the jury on the opening of court tomorrow. It is believed that his instructions will be lengthy but probably before the noon hour the jury will have retired to consider a verdict.

At the close of the argument today after Prosecutor Rand had arraigned her in the most scathing terms, had asserted that her silence in this trial was a confession of her guilt, had declared that her sister had lied on the stand and that her counsel had based his plea for life on a fabrication of fabrications Nan Patterson said she still felt confident the jury would bring in an early verdict of acquittal.

ADAMS NOW POLICE CHIEF

Assumed Duties Yesterday Afternoon at Urgent Request of Retiring Chief W. S. Reynolds.

Patrolman Sam S. Stewart Appointed Captain to Succeed Thos. J. Fair, Resigned---John Rowan Succeeds Detective S. D. Burno.

Resigned—Captain T. J. Fair, Police Clerk Roy Rose, Detective S. D. Burno and Patrolman Lloyd D. Compton.

Appointed—Sam S. Stewart, police captain; John Rowan, city detective.

W. S. Reynolds surrendered possession of his office as chief of police at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was checked out by the members of the police committee of the city council, and the new chief of police, Alex Adams, took formal charge of his office.

When Chief Reynolds notified Mr. Adams that he desired to surrender possession of the office immediately instead of acting for his successor for another week, the members of the police committee were notified, and at 3:30 p. m. Aldermen McCaffery, Holden and Hill forming the police committee, as well as Alderman Hosman and other city officials were present in the private office of the chief of police. The property on hand was checked over and the oath of office was administered to Mr. Adams.

ALEX ADAMS,
Who Yesterday Took Up Duties as Chief of Police.

Alderman A. M. Holden, as president of the council and acting mayor, at once made out the appointment of Samuel S. Stewart, as night captain, and acting at the suggestion of the new chief, appointed John Rowan, detective, vice Burno, resigned.

Prior to checking over the property in the custody of Chief Reynolds, Chief Adams requested that Mr. Reynolds state his reasons for desiring to turn over the office at this time. In reply Mr. Reynolds said:

"There are several reasons why I desire to turn over the office at once, the principal one being that I am no longer chief of police and would appear ridiculous were I to go out upon the street and attempt to assert the authority of that office. Mayor Hall wanted that I should remain in the office for another week and conduct a raid upon the rooming houses of the city, and that I have flatly declined to do. Being no longer chief of police I would have no right to conduct such a raid, and after the manner in which I have been treated by the mayor in the matter of raiding the clubs last week, I decline to remain longer in the office and bear the burdens that should go to the new chief. I have been ready at all times to surrender the office to my successor, and that I insist upon doing at once."

Had Strenuous Day.

Chief of Police Alex Adams, when seen last evening, said that he had experienced a very strenuous day. "I expected to leave this afternoon for the northern part of the state to dispose of some private business matters before taking the office," said the chief, "as Mayor Hall informed me that he had arranged with Mr. Reynolds for him to remain in charge of affairs until next Monday. The mayor and Chief Reynolds were in conference yesterday afternoon and discussed the matter all the way through. Although Mr. Reynolds said he wished to leave the office he had no right to do so at a rooming house during the week. The first I knew of the change in the program was when I received the resignations at the office and was requested immediately to call Mr. Reynolds and determine if I could not induce him to reconsider his intention of surrendering the office at once. I succeeded in doing so and then I qualified for the office and came down here."

On the Carpet.

When the night force reported at headquarters [illegible] the men and [illegible] into the chief's private office. Chief Adams told them that he wanted all to continue doing their duty without regard to any of the changes that had [illegible] department. Me Machine.

"You may state for me," said Chief Adams last evening, "that it is not the intention of Mayor Hall or myself to make a political machine of the police department, but rather to build up a department second to none in the country." This statement was brought out by rumors that have been in circulation to the effect that the police and street departments would be used in establishing a Democratic machine in the city.

Captain Sam S. Stewart, the new captain of police, was born in [illegible] Ind., in 1852. He left home [illegible] years of age and went to [illegible] working up in the various branches of conductor, and he is still a member of the O. R. C. Mr. Stewart was also with the Rio Grande, when that road built through to Utah in 1881, and was with the Midland in 1887. He has been a property owner in this city for [illegible] 15 years, and was appointed to the local police force by Chief Reynolds two years ago in August. While Mr. Stewart was a member of the Pacific force for two years, he received his greatest training in the work of catching thieves as a deputy United States marshal in Oregon and Washington.

Newly Appointed Captain of Police of Colorado Springs.

...DES MOINES WON A GARGUS GAME

MILLIONAIRES LOST TO THE TUNE OF 15 TO 6, BUT THE FANS HAD OODLES OF FUN THROUGHOUT.

If the fans expected to see a good game yesterday afternoon they would have been disappointed. But they didn't. It was too cold for the snappy article and the strong wind which blew across the field throughout the game made accurate play almost impossible, hence the errors. Des Moines won, 15 to 6.

The visitors started the fireworks in the first inning and didn't let up till the last man was down in the tenth. There were hits, sacrifices, and stolen bases galore for the Underwriters and the result was never in doubt. The hits covered everything in the category—singles, doubles, triples and home runs. Fourteen of them, with the aid of five errors, all costly, did the business, with the assistance of course, of bases on balls, dead balls, fish balls and every other kind of balls, except high balls. It was hit and run—sort of go-as-you-please stunt from the beginning to the finish, a merry-go-round for further orders.

The Des Moines team finishes its series here today. Remember the hour—2:30 o'clock. Tonight it goes east to open with the Omaha team, while Sioux City and St. Joe come out to Colorado Springs and Denver, respectively.

...NERS MEET AGGIES TODAY

GAME AT FORT COLLINS THIS AFTERNOON WILL DECIDE WHETHER OR NOT TIGERS HAVE CHANCE.

At Fort Collins this afternoon, the State School of Mines of Golden and the State Agricultural college will play their second and last baseball game of the intercollegiate series.

This is the crucial game of the season. It is Golden's closing game; if it wins this game it wins the state championship. If it loses it still leaves the championship an open question to be settled when the Aggies play the Tigers here a week from Saturday.

The result of the game will be awaited with much interest by those interested in the Colorado college team, for upon it depends the question of whether or not the Tigers get a look-in at the state championship. The standing of the league, to date, is as follows:

Team—	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
School of Mines	2	1	.666
Agricultural college	1	1	.500

JEFFRIES WILL RETIRE FROM THE PRIZE RING AND STAGE

CINCINNATI, May 2.—James J. Jeffries, champion heavyweight pugilist, will retire from the prize ring and from the stage and go into business with his brother, Jack, in California, according to a statement made by him today to the Times-Star. He will leave the stage on May 15, arrangements having been made to cancel all engagements after that date. Jeff takes this action at the request of his wife. In addition to this Jeff says that pugilism does not pay.

Immediately after his present week's engagement in Cincinnati in the role of "Davy Crockett" Jeffries will go to Chicago and fill an engagement of one week there. This will be his last public appearance. One week from next Monday in Chicago is the time set by him today for his permanent retirement as a fighter and an actor.

This afternoon Jeffries received word from Klaw & Erlanger releasing him of all his theatrical contracts and engagements. This action was taken at the request of Jeffries, who then made the following statement to a Times-Star reporter:

"I may possibly take a summer trip to Europe with my wife, after which I am going into the mining business with my brother Jack, and I shall hereafter devote my time to it.

"The principal reason for my retiring from the ring and from the stage is that my wife objects. I have decided to quit fighting for all time. The last fight I had in San Francisco was fairly well patronized, and, although I won the big end of the purse, there was but little in it for me. The public is fickle, I am well provided with this world's goods, and I am done with it all. Billy Delany is also well fixed and he will also retire from the business with me. When my engagement ends in Chicago one week from next Monday I shall make my bow as a public character and shall never again go either on the stage or into the prize ring."

GERMAN IMPERIAL YACHT ENTERS HARBOR OF VENICE.

VENICE, May 2.—Emperor William of Germany, Empress Augusta and Princes Eitel Frederick and Oscar, on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern, which was escorted by a battleship and a cruiser, entered the harbor here today. The German ships cast anchor amidst the booming of cannon and salutes from a myriad of gondolas. The Venetians remember with gratitude that Emperor William visited them immediately after the defeat of the Italian army at Adua, in order to show his friendship.

Princess Letitia, cousin of King Victor Emmanuel, witnessed the arrival of the Hohenzollern from a window of the royal palace and sent a basket of rare flowers to the empress, who invited the princess to visit her on board the imperial yacht.

A. S. Utley, floor manager for Montgomery, Ward & Co., attacked by sluggers at Oakenwald avenue. Mr. Utley, who has been acting in the interests of Ward & Co. since the commencement of the strike, was attacked by three men whom he thinks have been following him several days. The men knocked him down and kicked him in a terrific manner about the head and face. He knocked one of them down with a billy and the others fled. Thinking he had killed his assailant Utley went to call an ambulance, but when it arrived the man had either recovered and gone away or had been carried off by his companions.

Policeman Guy Dittinger, knocked down with a revolver and half of his teeth kicked out; Policeman John Howe, knocked down by a striker with a club; Leonard Webber, struck in the head by flying bullet, slight; George Jordan, colored, non-union man from St. Louis, badly beaten by mob at State street and Peck Court; Tony Renburg, union teamster, taken for non-union man, struck on head with stone, injuries serious.

No Rifles Carried.

Although it was announced last night that the teams of the express companies and of the Employers' association would be handled by men armed with rifles today, nothing of the kind was attempted save in the case of a few drivers employed by the Scott Transfer company. Mayor Dunne and Chief of Police O'Neil made every effort to prevent the carrying of rifles and Superintendent Reid of the Teaming association informed them that he had not contemplated arming his men as stated. The Scott men carried rifles throughout the day and none of them was molested.

The strike today did not spread in any degree. No more men were called out and from present appearances there is no immediate prospect that any more teamsters will strike.

Driver Wounds Four Men.

Four men were shot late this afternoon in a riot at Polk street and California avenue. This trouble was the result of an attempt of the United States Express company to deliver goods on the west side without police protection. An express wagon, in charge of Bert Guyles and Paul Bastian was surrounded by a mob which threw stones and clubs, and attempted to drag the drivers to the ground. Guyles drew a revolver and fired into the air. This had no effect in checking the mob and as the stones were coming faster and faster he fired directly into the crowd. The bullet struck Lyde McDowell of 1417 West Larrison street, in the left hip. The crowd broke and fled, leaving McDowell lying on the ground, and the wagon drove on.

The report that a man on the wagon had killed a man spread rapidly afound the neighborhood and by the time the wagon had reached Madison street and Oakley avenue the crowd again closed in, and pelted the men with stones and attempted to pull them down. Guyles again drew his revolver and opened fire on the crowd. His first shot struck Albert McIlvain in the back, inflicting a wound which may prove mortal. William Bass of 675 Warren avenue, was shot in the left leg below the knee and J. Erickson of 178 Loomis street, was shot in the right arm above the elbow. All of the men with the exception of McElvain were taken to the county hospital where, it was said, they will recover. Guyles and Bastian were arrested shortly after the meeting.

THE "CONSPIRACY OF SILENCE" ELUCIDATED BY OSCAR DAVIS

Noted War Correspondent Gave Unusually Interesting Address on Army of the Mikado at First Presbyterian Church Last Night.

Oscar King Davis, who was special correspondent for the New York Herald during the early days of the Japanese-Russian war, delivered a lecture before a large audience at the Men's club of the First Presbyterian church last night on "Some Phases of Japanese Life and Customs."

Senator H. H. Seldomridge in introducing the speaker spoke of Mr Davis' unusual opportunity for study of the peoples of the orient.

The 'Great Peace."

"What seems to us to be a sudden development in the Japanese is in reality the result of a long course of preparation, said Mr Davis For 250 years Japan maintained the closed-door policy in the strictest sense for not only were traders excluded with the exception of a small colony of Dutch but even intercourse with the nations of the occident was discouraged During this time, which is known as the Great Peace the soldiers were without the opportunity of fighting and in order to give them something to do they were compelled to study Upon the opening of the country to foreigners these 2,000,000 soldier-students began to study the conditions of other countries and to find out in what manner the customs of western nations could be applied to the island kingdom It is due to these students that Japan has been able to take the best from the whole world and apply it

One of Japan's proudest boasts is that there has been but one ruling dynasty during the 2,660 years of the kingdom About 1100 A D the Shoguns who commanded the army, usurped the power and by placing boy-emperors on the throne kept it for over 500 years. This was possible as the race had grown effeminate The overthrow of the Shoguns came about as the result of the demands of the people of the southern islands that all foreigners be driven out and in the revolution raised to exclude this element the clans claimed that they had been deceived by the commanders of the army and overthrew them

Emperor's Stand.

The present emperor was placed upon the throne and the first example of his power was given by him when he swore before his council that he would open Japan to the foreigner notwithstanding the fact that he had been raised to the throne by the people who were averse to this policy He was then a boy under 15 years of age So great was the power of Neo-Confucianism on the minds of the people that they stood by the state although its policy was antagonistic to their wishes. Loyalty to the empire is their religion.

Okubu Ichiso presented a memorial to the emperor in which he said that in order to make the nation strong it was necessary that all the old mystical relation of people to ruler should be done away with and that the capital should be moved to Tokio In writing this memorial, Okubo expected to be ordered to commit hari-kari but he was willing to kill himself if the desired reforms could be brought about.

Never Be Westernized.

There will never be a westernized Japan All that is best from the nations of the world will be assimilated, but the army is a proof that the new order of things will be made Japanese. For instance during the relief of Peking I found General Fukushima to be the most open minded gentleman I met. When I received my appointment at the beginning of the present hostilities he was very polite but during the nine weeks when I saw him every day he made but one true statement to me We correspondents went to Japan on our own invitation and the Japanese were sorry to have us but they pretended that they were glad and led us to believe that they would treat us as we had been treated at Peking If they had said at first that they did not wish us as General Kitchener did to the correspondents on the Nile, there would have been no trouble but to lead us on by promises they never meant to keep was the worst sort of dishonesty.

By traveling 217 miles in a week I was present at the battle which was fought a year ago yesterday—the battle at the crossing of the Yalu river During all that trip over the road which had been traveled by an army of 72,000 men I did not see a single straggler

Devoted Soldiers.

There is no discipline in the army such as we know Each man thinks that the entire success of the army depends upon his faithfulness Just before the battle of the Yalu a sergeant of cavalry was ordered to find out the depth and breadth of the middle stream of the river where it passed between islands upon which were Russian troops When he and his one companion succeeded in getting to the stream they found it full of floating ice and fearing that the noise of a swimmer would wake the sentries, the sergeant tied a rope to his waist and, taking a stone in his hand started to walk across He was rendered unconscious by the cold and was dragged to shore by his companion but he had succeeded in his mission as he waded over half way across and by measuring the rope that was paid out the distance was determined If he had been able to report even at the cost of being killed, he would not have hesitated.

The officers and soldiers are absolutely fearless Death in the cause of the emperor is almost sought after The greatest fear that they have is the name of coward and it is seldom that even individuals can be justly called so

Military Specialists.

The Japanese have all the military science of the world at their command and they use it On General Kuroki's staff every man is a specialist Often I have gone into the tent of one of the chiefs and found him on his back as is the custom when studying with a book of military science from which he is learning The 'Conspiracy of Silence' which the Japanese army has maintained in regard to the newspapers has made it possible for the generals to lose portions of the army from the world and thus to strike blows from the most unexpected quarter It is one of the secrets of their success and they will continue to maintain it'

POLICE PREPARING TO ESTABLISH ROCK PILE

One of the matters that will receive the attention of Chief of Police Adams in the immediate future will be the establishment of a rock pile for the benefit of offenders who are repeatedly brought up in the police court The matter was discussed at a meeting of the police committee yesterday and received unanimous support

It is probable that an attempt will be made to secure a lease upon the vacant lot south of the old court house on Nevada avenue place a high board fence around it, and provide prisoners with a hammer to earn their bread by the sweat of their brows

CIVIL SERVICE OR POLITICS?

IT SEEMS that the brand of civil service which Mayor Hall preached as president of the local Civil Service Reform Association and that which he practices in making appointments to important positions in the city service are two widely different things. However, it is often difficult to reconcile one's professions with performance, especially when the Powers That Be in party must be given respectful audience, so it would be uncharitable to criticise Mr. Hall's official decapitation of Police Chief Reynolds and Fire Chief Baty too severely.

The Non-Partisan League, to the efforts of which Mayor Hall owes his election, was committed unequivocally to the principle of civil service. It professed to want the best man for the place regardless of politics. It frequently declared in its campaign pamphlets that men who had been tried in office and found honest and efficient should be retained. Unquestionably this is the correct principle, for its application best serves the public interest.

There is no exaggeration, only plain truth in the statement that W. S. Reynolds has been the best Chief of Police that Colorado Springs ever had. When he took charge of the department about two years ago it was badly disorganized. Its former chief and one of its detectives were under arrest charged with entering a conspiracy with criminals. Many of the officers were incompetent and it was not uncommon to see a policeman on his beat, untidily dressed and generally unmilitary. Chief Reynolds changed all this. He has brought police force to a state of efficiency never before known in this city. He broke up the notorious Duff gang, reduced crime to a minimum. He has won a reputation throughout the country by capturing several criminals who were fugitives from other states. Colorado Springs is today better policed than Denver, Pueblo or any other city in the West, and the members of the force on duty are as spick and span as Westpoint cadets on dress parade.

But even so it is possible that the point of view changes with the office is secured, but if there is any virtue in consistency in the acts of Mayor Hall, here was the golden opportunity of his entire term to assert them. Chief Baty too has made a good record, and like Chief Reynolds was endorsed for reappointment by a majority of the business interests of the city. But both are Republicans, Mayor Hall is a Democrat, the "organization" must be "recognized," hence, they are invited to step down and out and two Democrats are installed in their places.

We hope that Mr. Armbruster, who has had some experience in Fire Department matters, will make as good a Fire Chief as Mr. Baty has been. We hope that he will be a worthy successor to Mr. Reynolds. He is an excellent citizen and a good real estate man. Whether this qualifies him for the very important position of Chief of Police remains to be seen. However, he will have the record of Chief Reynolds to guide him, and if he takes it as a model he will not go far wrong.

THE BOWEN-LOOMIS QUARREL.

IT IS hardly likely that President Roosevelt regards the quarrel between Minister Bowen and Assistant Secretary of State Loomis as sufficiently important to be the reason for his early return to Washington. It has been reported in the dispatches that he preferred to let Secretary Taft to settle the affair and have it out of the way if possible before he reached the capital. But however the matter may be settled, it is not a pleasing thing to contemplate. The spectacle of a high official of the State Department and a foreign minister trading charges and countercharges involving personal and official honor is little less than disgraceful.

Mr. Bowen charges that Mr Loomis has had improper relations with the New York and Bermudez Asphalt company, and specifically that while acting as United States Minister at Caracas he received $10,000 from the company for his influence in straightening out its tangle with the Venezuelan government. These charges were published in a New York paper and Mr Loomis promptly denied them and made the countercharge that Mr Bowen has caused their publication. As a result Mr Bowen has been ordered home to make good his statements. Whether he does so or not, his diplomatic career is practically ended, or at least his influence is impaired, for Mr. Loomis' prestige is also lowered.

It need not be surprising if it is found that the Venezuelan government is behind the whole affair. It is known that President Castro has been anxious for a chance to get rid of Minister Bowen, whose conduct of the negotiations growing out of the demonstration of the allied powers two years ago was not to his liking. A cablegram to a New York paper recently Castro officially criticised the American minister, insinuating that he was the obstacle that prevented the early settlement of the present difficulties.

The characteristic Castro method of diplomacy is to adopt any means which may serve the end, and it is imaginable that he would hesitate to hatch up the present scandal if it would answer his purpose.

RELIGIOUS FREEDOM IN RUSSIA.

THE Czar's edict granting real religious freedom to all his subjects is regarded as the most important of the reforms that have been made since the beginning of the war. The orthodox Greek church is the state church of Russia, and the first duty of every good Russian has been absolute adherence to its tenets. Next to the Czar himself the head of the church, "the little father of the people," stands [illegible] than that of political ruler that has held for long the allegiance of his people.

Next to the Czar stands the Procurator General of the Holy Synod, and this position has been filled for a generation past by M. Pobiedonostseff, the most absolute bigot and the worst hater of innovations in all Christendom. To his narrow but wonderful mind all who are not orthodox in the strictest sense are doomed to eternal punishment. He is the man largely responsible for the rigorous rule of the church and also for the persecutions of the Jews. Until now nobody could leave the orthodox church without forfeiting all civil rights, including the right to inherit crown property. Pobiedonostseff is a fanatic in every sense of the term and his fanaticism has led him to every extreme to which he could go.

Naturally such a policy would lead to the springing up of a great many dissident sects. Not counting the Jews, who in Russia number 3,500,000, about one half of the Jewish population of the world, it is estimated that the Czar has 8,000,000 subjects who are not orthodox or at least who are secretly in rebellion against the church. Now, instead of persecuting these people, the government announces that it will grant them the same consideration accorded the orthodox. Of course, orthodoxy will remain the state religion but freedom of worship will be allowed and every person who becomes of age will enjoy the right to change his confession of faith if he so desires.

It would be interesting to know what force impelled the Czar to make this sweeping change in policy. Pobiedonostseff has always been a powerful personage at court and the reformers must have been strong indeed to overcome his adverse influence. There will be no more attempts to compel the adoption of a distasteful religion by the people of conquered provinces or by those who are already Russian subjects. The significance of such a reform is great, for, as was remarked in the press dispatches, it means official sanction to a principle which, if acknowledged politically, would bring about a federated empire.

A little publicity seems to have affected Dr. Osler's brain. First, it was the suggestion to chloroform all men over 60, then a proposal that the Canadian government pay each strong, healthy girl in the Dominion $1,000 bounty to prevent emigration to this country and now he wants to tax bachelors. Somebody should give Dr. Osler a tip that it isn't well for eminent men to talk too much foolishness in public.

The New York Sun thinks that Emperor William is getting ready to start a war against France and make that country a vassal state. This recalls somebody's suggestion that Canada may eventually annex the United States.

Mr. Roosevelt dispenses wisdom on the race suicide question, and Mr Cleveland lectures the women's clubs. What is there about the Presidency that makes a man so wise on domestic subjects?

Edna May has just secured her third divorce and she is still on the sunny side of thirty. With such a splendid start Edna bids fair to become one of the greatest actresses of her time.

Harry Payne Whitney is building a $75,000 fence around his country home. With such a costly affair, most people would be tempted to move out of the house and live on the fence.

Now that Mr Bryan has expressed his opinion that peace can only be found in religion will he please explain his views on the religion and tainted money subject.

About the most dangerous occupation one can pursue just now is that of an innocent bystander in Chicago.

Why doesn't Chicago call on Castro to put down its revolution? That sort of thing is his specialty.

Open Parliament

THE Y. M. C. A. DEBT.

To the Editor of the Gazette:

Few institutions are rendering a more valuable public service than the modern Young Men's Christian association. Through the four-fold ministry of its gymnasium, its libraries, reading rooms and evening classes, its Bible classes and religious meetings and its social life it is sending out into the world hundreds of thousands of fine young fellows with healthy vigorous bodies disciplined minds and sound strong characters who are destined to serve their generation worthily and efficiently. The ablest men of affairs in our own country and in other countries are recognizing its great success in turning out men who are of good habits, intelligent and reliable.

There are not many cities of its size in the world that have so well equipped or so well managed an association as is our own. The boys and young men of this city have shown their warm appreciation of the rare advantages which it offers by the patronage which they have accorded it. In this community it has not only been of inestimable value to the class for which it primarily and especially exists but it has also been a center and clearing house so to speak, of many philanthropic and salutary social movements. From the beginning it has been conducted in such a way as to commend it to the warm approval of all the pastors and churches of our city as well as to our business men. Its greatest usefulness however cannot be attained until the debt with which it is now burdened is wiped out. It is greatly to be desired that this should be done at once. I hope that our men and women of large means and not they alone, but all our citizens according to their ability, will take hold together vigorously and enthusiastically and lift the debt now resting upon this excellent institution and set it free to do the great and valuable work for our city which it can then do so much more adequately and efficiently.

A professor of Harvard is interested in epilepsy in its different forms. During a summer sojourn in the country he heard of an old woman with epilepsy who lived in the village. Curious to know the disease in unusual a case, he interviewed the widower. Having inquired concerning different symptoms, he proceeded:

"Did she grind her teeth much at night?"
The old man considered for a minute and then replied: "Wal, I d'know as she was 'elf at night."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

HAWAII THE KEY

Important Field for Mission and Educational Work Among the Asiatic Races Represented There as Laborers.

EARLY in January the American Missionary Association, New York, was formally informed and the society entered into a union with the Congregational Home Missionary society in dividing the work of raising the two societies. The Congregational Home Missionary society has decided to withdraw from its proposed work in Hawaii. In view of this, and at the urgent appeal of the Hawaiian Evangelical association, the American Missionary association has taken up the entire Hawaiian work, assuming the full burden of aid to them from Congregational churches. This action was taken to save the double solicitation to churches from the two societies. The American Missionary association alone has much itself responsible for the work of the churches in Hawaii, pledging $8,000. The superintendent of the work in Hawaii is Rev. Doremus Scudder, D. D., of Honolulu, formerly of Woburn, Mass. He says: "The time is not far when Uncle Sam will undertake his colossal mistake and begin to chase the Celestial and the man of the Rising Sun with the much maligned immigrant from northern Europe as the peoples whom of all others we most need for the enrichment of our national family. Here the practical politician is encountering a new sort of American citizen who will make his trade infinitely harder than it would be if a Dane or Italian or even Emerald Islander had flocked to this paradise—a citizen who is by far the best taxpayer that we have, fulfilling his financial obligations to the state more faithfully than those of purest American blood. We are face to face with new problems in these islands, and what the outcome will be only God knows."

The "Yellow Peril."

The following are the statistics of children in the schools of Hawaii:

Pure Hawaiians	[illegible]
Japanese and Chinese	4,570
Portuguese	4,345
Part Hawaiian	3,284
Americans	[illegible]
British, German, Scandinavian	661
Porto Rican	556
Other foreigners	[illegible]
	19,299

Add American, British, German and Scandinavian figures in the above table. You get 1,538—the salt that is to savor the mass of 19,299 souls in the upspringing generation. The most virile and dependable element next to that tiny 1,538 is the "menacing" 4,570 who hail from Asia. Our yellow peril is to be either our salvation or our perdition. Ask any teacher in our public school the question, "Who are your brightest and best pupils?" I have yet to find one who will not answer unhesitatingly, Chinese and Japanese, and that, too, in this order. The president of the largest bank in Honolulu said to me recently: "I cannot explain how it is, but I can take a young Chinese out of the Mills institute (our mission school for Chinese in Honolulu) into my bank and he will do anything I will him in any branch learning quickly and proving reliable while it takes a white young man much longer and he will make many more mistakes." If Americanism is to succeed here it will be through the instrumentality of these American-born men from Asia. They will develop our leaders for they have the capacity, the industry, the persistency and the citizenship. Will they have the American spirit? They will if the churches of America will help us to train them.

Outside of Honolulu the Japanese and Chinese are found upon the plantations in small camps. Plantations often cover many thousand acres and as a rule reach in a long line parallel to the sea coast. They are so isolated as a Western farm and each is sufficient unto itself. The manager and a very few of his staff are Americans or North Europeans. The one thousand or more laborers comprise Japanese, Chinese, Portuguese, Koreans, Porto Ricans and a few others.

Races Live in Native Conditions.

At convenient points on the plantations the camps are located, containing sometimes only men of a single nationality. Where two or more races are herded in the same camp the laborers live as a rule housed in separate quarters, the Japanese by themselves, etc. Considering the climate and the conditions which the laborers were accustomed to in their homelands the housing is good. The camps are sanitary, the men healthy, well paid and generally contented. But the Japanese camp is Japan, the Chinese are in China, the Portuguese live in the Azores. Nothing purely American is anywhere to be seen. These foreigners bring their strange habits of life, their conceptions of personal modesty, or immodesty, their differing moral standards and their vices. Hawaii lives in continual danger of becoming the one American territory where the social evil is not only condoned but licensed. But for the Edmunds law the world might even be treated to the spectacle of these islands adopting a system of legalized [illegible] which the moral sense of Japan is likely to be shocked. A more [illegible] sore point is in the air. Hawaii is to be one of the school grounds for the Pacific. Day by day crews of [illegible] plantations stalk a crew of Oriental gamblers swarm down upon the [illegible] camps of Honolulu. Drug fiends and come-hither peddlers of Hiroshima and Canton make life alternately grave and gay. The children grow up in a mottled society atmosphere unlike anything the world can show elsewhere. For the restraints of life, the traditions that make up the richness of existence in the homeland are wholly wanting here. Religion is almost entirely absent. A tiny Buddhist temple or Shinto shrine may lurk somewhere about one of the several camps of the plantation but it is an exotic. The saddest spots on earth for children are these lonely mid-Pacific Asian camps.

Work Among the Schools.

Yet these children have the brains and the inherited will power to develop leadership. Put now an earnest devoted Christian Japanese evangelist in such a camp. Instantly a new force is evident. He is an embodiment of all that is best in his national life. His people gather about him. They seek him in sorrow. They flock to him in their difficulties with the foreign manager. He writes birth certificates for their children and engineers their marriages and all the time tells them the story of the Cross which has lifted forever his own life. In addition to all his other services he opens a tiny school out of public school hours and teaches the little folk how to read the Bible, learn the rudiments of arithmetic and, in the beautiful Japanese handwriting of Dai Nippon, he sends his hold upon these hardworking men and women, body and soul, forever. Change the details and you have a like picture of the work we are doing for the Chinese. Hawaii is sending back to the Asian continent thousands of men and millions of dollars every year. Shall a goodly percentage of these dollars go to help establish Christian institutions in China and Japan? We have already begun this work. Among the Christian laymen of Japan three men are known wherever there are public-spirited Japanese. One of these three is Hon. Taro Ando of Tokio. Hawaii led him to Christ. We have no such striking instance in China because China is not yet homogeneous. But some of the growing young men with brilliant prospects of influence and position in that empire became Christians on these islands. Already young students who have consecrated themselves to missionary work wherever God may call are going in respectable numbers from here to Japan and the mainland to complete their preparation. A more striking work may be done for all Eastern Asia now in Hawaii than anywhere else on the globe.—New York Correspondence Boston Transcript.

A CONSCIENCE DEBT.

A railway journey of nearly 3,000 miles to pay a $5 debt as a conscience fund is the unprecedented record of an aged woman who arrived in Kokomo recently from southern California, says a Kokomo, Ind., dispatch to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Thirty-three years ago this woman was employed as a domestic in the home of Dr. and Mrs. William R. Cooper of Kokomo. One evening when Mrs. Cooper was a guest of honor at a neighboring function the "model maid" disappeared. The domestic on leaving took with her jewelry and clothing valued at $50 belonging to her mistress. Detectives were employed to pursue the fugitive but they reported that the maid could not be found. The former maid, now gray and stooped, is again in Kokomo and was a caller at the Cooper home. Mrs. Cooper herself answered the door-bell and the former mistress and maid stood face to face.

Mrs. Cooper was surprised. The incident had long since passed out of her mind.

"I still owe you $5," said the woman. "I gave the officer who captured me at Tipton $25, as you know, and thought at the time I gave him all, but learned differently afterward." The officer had never reported the recovery of the property and he had disappeared. Mrs. Cooper was too considerate to mention this fact to her visitor.

Mrs. Cooper refused to disclose the name and residence of the conscience stricken maid of thirty-three years ago, but it is understood that she is a member of a wealthy and honored family of the Pacific coast. After remaining a few hours at the Cooper home she departed as suddenly as she came for her western home. She traveled in all nearly six thousand miles to pay a conscience debt of $5.

TO HELP BREED ARABIAN HORSES

An active interest will be taken by the American Museum of Natural History in assisting in the perpetuation of the family of Arabian horses from which the famous English Darley Arabian came. This species was supposed to be extinct, but there are in the Huntington stud, in Oyster Bay, Long Island, fifteen stallions and mares of the family from which the Darley Arabian descended, all that remains of the family, it is said, in the civilized world. Walter Russell and Robert V. V. Sewell, the artists and two other horse lovers, bought the stable. They propose to keep alive the blood of the Minghi Hedruj equine family, from which the Darley Arabian came, and will not sell at any price any animal that would jeopardize the keeping alive of this strain.

At the Museum of Natural History yesterday, S. H. Chubb, an expert taxidermist, was busy mounting the skeleton of Nimr, a Arabian stallion of the Huntington stud, that died a few months ago. Mr. Chubb, who visited Oyster Bay from his home in Central Park West, said that the skeleton of Nimr was a perfect specimen of the Arabian horse. The skeleton of a horse [illegible] a dozen mounted skeletons of fossil horses.

Walter Russell informed the reporter that the museum would aid him and his associates in every way in perpetuating this race of Arabian horses.

Mr. Russell said that since the time of Mahomet until about two hundred years ago the northern part of Arabia was the habitat of the great nomadic tribe known as the Anazeh. This tribe bred exclusively a horse, doubtless descended from old Babylonian stock, so large and powerful that by his side the horses of the south became ponies, and so fleet that the horsemen of Central Arabia regarded them as prodigies of speed.

Mr. Russell also said:

The great value of the Arab horse of this family to the world at large is for the rejuvenation of the degenerating lot of mongrelly bred horses and the development of types. The people of this country do not realize it, but Europeans do that all types of horses to which we look for excellence are created by crossing with the Arab horse. The English thoroughbred. The Arabian horse is the best by which all horseflesh is leavened. The English racehorse was evolved from the Arabian in this manner.—New York Tribune.

PLUTO SCORES A GREAT VICTORY.

Unhappy enough is the lot of the poor comic artist. His cup of trouble is filled to overflowing and his joy fests are few and far between. His is the duty to make folks sit up and smile to drive away the blues and make undertaking a poor business proposition. Perhaps he has cramps, a gloss arm, Charley horse wrinkles, falling hair or boils. No matter, he must be funny. Perhaps he's broke and his meal ticket is all punched. Tut tut he must forget it and get humorous. But when on top of all else a book agent must inflict his pestiferous presence upon him—oh woe oh, agony! It is awful. Pest the officious, conceited, self-assertive book agent butted into our comic department last week and but no we'll not tell the rest. See the sad story in next week's funny section for yourself.

DEAL FOR GOLDEN CYCLE MINE IS SUPPOSED TO BE OFF

Negotiations for the sale of the Golden Cycle mine and adjoining properties in the Cripple Creek district through George Crawford of New York to the New York Exploration company for $1,000,000 have been officially declared off

News to this effect was received yesterday from St Louis in a telegram by Attorney Hugh McCarty, one of the Golden Cycle directors According to Mr McCarty the deal was formally declared off by Mr Crawford at a conference held Monday in St Louis The conference was attended by J T Milliken representing the Golden Cycle majority by F J Cassidy representing the minority stock Jas. by A T Holman general superintendent of the Golden Cycle mine and T W Carter of St Louis, representing the Theresa property The whole proposition was gone over thoroughly, and then Mr Crawford announced all negotiations off

The failure of the negotiations was due primarily to the wide difference in the reports by the experts who examined the mine Mr Von Rosenberg who examined the property for Mr Crawford reported that the properties included in the deal were easily worth $1,500,000 L F Chase Louis Nobel and Mr Minard chief engineer of the Golden Cycle for the prospective purchasers differed in their reports Mr Minard's report was wholly unfavorable and Messrs Chase and Nobel urged that the ore bodies in the mine should continue 200 feet deeper to make the mine worth the price asked

The property included in the deal comprised all of the stock of the Golden Cycle all of the Theresa, and thirty acres of adjoining ground, making a total of 79 acres

The New York Exploration company is a wealthy mining syndicate which operates in the United States Mexico and South America Mr Crawford is a well known mining man in this state being at the head of a large group of Silverton mines which property includes the railroad built several years ago by Otto Mears

CARBONIC ACID GAS GIVES TROUBLE TO MANY MINES

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 2.—A number of properties were closed today on account of the great amount of carbonic acid gas present. Work was entirely suspended in the C. O. D. through the Ophelia tunnel and numerous other properties.

The gas problem in the Cripple Creek district is a serious one just while some good has resulted from the extensive study made by the government experts, it has not been solved by any means. The most beneficial results that have been attained through the suggestions of the government men have been in the Columbus mine of the Anchoria Leland property. When the barometer there indicates heavy weather which is always accompanied by the gas, gasoline is always turned into the mine with the result that the gas is dispelled.

Another gas has been found in the district by Henry Dahl, manager of the Ophir mine. Instead of making the candle go out, it makes the light burn brighter and affects breathing and the joints of the legs. Hundreds of men were idle today because of the generation of the gas, but the weather has cleared so tonight that it is believed operations will be resumed in full force tomorrow.

LESSEES SINKING ON MONTE CRISTO

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 2.—Murphy and Mason, who are leasing on the Monte Cristo of the Magnet Rock property adjoining the El Paso, are pushing the work of sinking the shaft and will probably go to the depth of about 300 feet before they extend a level to cut the extension of the rich El Paso ore shoot.

The big El Paso ore shoot passes through one corner of their lease and with the width and the values of it on the adjoining property, these operators stand a chance of making a good-sized fortune.

CAMILLA LEASE PASTE EXPECTATIONS

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 2.—The Camilla company is now pushing the work of sinking on its Guyot hill property and has the extension of the vein from which the El Paso company is breaking such rich ore in the Ajax claim just a few hundred feet away.

MARY NEVIN LESSEES MAKE BIG STRIKE

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, May 2.—The lessees on the Mary Jane property on Raven hill are rapidly pushing the work of installing the big new plant of machinery they have recently purchased. Included in the plant is a large air compressor, a large hoist and sufficient boiler capacity to attain a considerable depth. A great deal of ore has been blocked out but sufficient depth has not been attained.

With the new plant in operation it is the intention to sink and extend levels as fast as possible. It is believed that the big ore shoot they are working is an extension of the famous Doctor vein that in years gone by yielded sufficient ore to make fortunes for a great number of people.

WILL SINK ADDITIONAL 100 FEET ON MARY NEVIN.

A BOY PRESTIDIGITATEUR.

Dreamy Davy was up and doing again last week. His latest stunt was magic, and the tricks he did were such as would put Hermann to shame. If some wizard would come along and perform the trick of keeping this boy awake he would have fewer adventures and the community more peace. If you wish to see the sleight-of-hand stunts Davy performed, look in next week's comic section. The pictures are funny and dizzy with color.

THE TRUTHFUL GUIDE.

It is told of a lady that, while touring in the Scottish highlands one summer, she was taken to a cave in which Macbeth was said to have been born. She examined the cave attentively, and listened to the eloquent speech of her guide. At the end she said to the man: "Come, now, tell me truly, is this really the place where Macbeth was born?"

The guide smiled awkwardly. He shifted about a little. "Well," he said, "it's one of the places!"—Glasgow Herald.

FINALLY DISPOSED OF.

But the Getting Rid of the Folding Bed Nearly Drove Its Owner to Drink.

In the early days of their housekeeping, when economy of space as well as economy in expense was essential, Mr. and Mrs. Goovius bought a folding bed. It was shaped like an upright piano and cost $?.

For several years it served a useful purpose in the spare bedroom, which it nearly filled when opened out, and then the Goovius family, having prospered, moved into a larger house.

Then they tried to sell the folding bed.

It was practically as good as new, but it was surprising to see how few persons wanted a bed of that kind, even at $10, the price at which they offered it.

A cousin of Mr. Goovius moved to town. He gladly availed himself of the offer of that folding bed, to be kept as long as he pleased, and thus the bothersome piece of furniture was disposed of for a time.

But the cousin prospered, too, and within a year it was brought back, with thanks, to make room for a new brass bedstead.

Then it was offered to a washerwoman for $7, to be paid for in work.

She agreed, and it was taken away.

The next day it was brought back to the house again. The washerwoman had seen one that was offered for $5 and suited her just as well, and she wasn't going to be cheated out of $2, even by a regular customer.

Then Mr. Goovius tried to sell it for $5, but could find no purchaser.

There was nothing to do but to stow it in an unused room on the second floor. He called in two of his neighbors and asked them to help him carry it up the stairway.

The three men, with much labor, lugged it up the stairs to within four or five steps of the top, and there it stuck. It was too big to go around the turn, and to get it down again proved to be even harder work than to carry it up.

"Gentlemen," said Mr. Goovius, with desperate calmness, "will either of you accept this useful and highly desirable article of household furniture as a gift?"

They thanked him, but they couldn't use it.

"Then, gentlemen," he said, "I'll ask you to do me one more favor. Help me to carry the thing out to the woodshed."

Here endeth the history of this folding bed—as a folding bed.

But for the next three or four weeks whenever the morning fire was made in the kitchen stove of the Goovius dwelling, the neighbors fancied there was a smell of burning varnish in the air.—Chicago Tribune.

HOW BRIDGE CAME TO LONDON.

Brought By a Traveler and Introduced By Accident.

One afternoon the customary rubber of whist was being played at the Portland club, which has long been the recognized headquarters of scientific card games. Among the players was Lord Brougham, who had recently returned from the south of Europe.

When it came to his turn to deal he omitted to turn up the last or trump card, placing it face downward on his own pack, and his opponents claimed a misdeal in accordance with the laws of the game.

He apologized to his partner, saying, "I am very sorry, but I forgot that I was not playing bridge."

"Bridge," said the others, "what is bridge?" To which he replied that it was by far the best card game ever invented.

After the rubber was over someone suggested that Lord Brougham should show them this wonderful game, which he at once proceeded to do, and from that day onward bridge was an established fact at the Portland club.

It spread to other clubs, and wherever it was once introduced it was welcomed with open arms as a delightful change from the stereotyped methods and precise formula of scientific whist.

It was some years before ladies discovered that it was a game eminently suited to their capabilities, but when once the discovery was made it spread like wildfire, until at the present day it is played in all societies and by all classes, and it is quite the exception nowadays to find any one who is not a bridge player of some sort.—Saturday Review.

Some two miles from Kamakura and about twenty from Yokohama, in Japan, on a terrace near the Temple, sits the most gigantic idol in the world. It is the brazen image of a diety and it dates from the reign of the Emperor Shomu, who died A. D. 748. The dimensions of this idol are colossal. Its height from the base of the lotus flower upon which it sits to the top of its head is 63½ feet.

CONSERVATIVE ADVANCES ON REVIVAL OF RAILWAY RUMORS

NEW YORK, May 2.—The character of the selling which met the opening advance in prices today carried a sufficient warning that the stocks which were taken yesterday morning to check the demoralization in the market were being disposed of again. It seemed quite evident that the high opening had been helped for the purpose of making a better market for disposing of these stocks. This is strictly in accordance with the normal course of the market movement after such an episode as Saturday's violent break with the supporting tactics of Monday.

The appearance of this class of selling somewhat dampened the speculative enthusiasm induced by yesterday's considerable advance in prices. Even the conspicuous advances in special stocks later in the day did not serve entirely to restore confidence in the stability of the market. Nevertheless quite a long list of effective gains were shown as a result of the day's business and amongst the industrials especially, the strong points were numerous and diversified.

The conspicuous advances late in the day were the result of a stirring show of the rumors of deals which have almost dropped out of sight in the demoralization of sentiment for the past week. The revival of talk of the lease of the Louisville and Nashville to the Atlantic Coast line on a dividend guaranteed was especially effective. The action of the Chicago and Northwestern directors towards a 15 per cent stock increase set afloat again various rumors regarding the railroad adjustment to be worked out in the northwest.

That stock itself had an immediate influence on the Vanderbilt group besides. No detailed information was given as to the ends proposed with the proceeds of the new issue, but speculative sentiment indulged in free conjecture along the lines that suited best the prevailing mood. The new stock is part of an increase authorized by the stockholders fully three years ago to be issued from time to time in the discretion of the directors. Plenty of rumors were current also of the distribution of Northern Securities assets in a manner to adjust all differences in that territory.

Consolidated Gas suffered from the threatened opposing legislation at Albany, and other New York public utilities were somewhat affected in sympathy. The weakness at this point had some effect in aggravating the early reaction. Its influence passed away with the later developments but was renewed at the last.

The weekly crop summary was regarded as satisfactory in its showing favorable exhibit, especially that for the winter wheat crop. March net earnings of railroads made a further favorable exhibit, especially that for the Pennsylvania system. The softness of the market when it was sought to take profits on the day's rise indicated its limitations and the irregular closing showed the day's changes mixed and the extreme gains much reduced.

Bonds were strong. Total sales, par value, $2,365,000.

U. S. 2s registered declined ¼ and the new 4s ¼ per cent on call.

GRAINS OVER WHEAT BELT

SOME SELLING PRESSURE BECOMES APPARENT, BUT OFFERINGS DWINDLE AND FIRMNESS DEVELOPS.

CHICAGO, May 2.—The wheat market had a firm undertone the greater part of session. For a time selling was quite free, rain over the wheat belt in general being responsible for the greater share of the selling pressure. The best demand was from shorts. After July had sold off to 82⅞c offerings dwindled and a firm tone again developed. As trading progressed the firmness changed to decided strength.

A powerful factor was a decrease of 1,800,000 bushels in the world's available stocks. Last year there was an increase of about a million bushels. Primary receipts also were less than for the corresponding day a year ago. Additional factors were claims of rust damage in Texas and Oklahoma. The highest point for July was reached just before the close when the price touched 84c, closing strong at 83⅝c.

An extremely small movement caused active covering by shorts in corn resulting in a strong market. July closed at 46⅞c.

Trading in oats was dull but the tone was firm. July closed at 29⅛@29¼c.

Provisions were firm on smaller receipts of hogs. At the close July pork was up 5c, lard was a shade higher and ribs were up 12½c.

PORTABLE HOUSE

G. N. WHITE GETS PATENT AND MODEL WILL BE EXHIBITED AT MEDICAL CONVENTION.

Under date of April 25, 1905, George N. White of this city received a patent for a portable house. It is especially designed as an invalid's house, an important feature of its construction being its improved methods of ventilation. Mr. White will manufacture the houses in this city and has entered into contracts with five western firms for its manufacture on a royalty. He left last night for California where he will be for the next three weeks or a month on matters in regard to these contracts.

Mr White has completed arrangements for the use of 12 of the houses at Craghmoor Sanatorium, and Dr. E. S. Solly will take a model to the tuberculosis convention in Washington, D. C., on May 18. Dr Solly together with Dr. C F Gardner and Dr W H. Swan will leave Colorado Springs on May 12 to attend the convention.

$2,000 LEGAL FIGHT OVER A $35 COW

In a decision just handed down by the Colorado supreme court the case of H. H Stevens vs R. M. Smith, known as the Stevens cow case, has been settled by a decision in favor of the plaintiff. The action was over a cow valued at $35, and the costs in the case now exceed $2,000.

In 1889, prior to leaving for California, H H Stevens, of the Alta Vista hotel, placed his cow in the Dittemore pasture, adjoining the Broadmoor pasture. In some manner the animal broke out and joined the Broadmoor herd and when the dairy was sold to Robert Mende Smith, the latter also took possession of the Stevens cow.

Four years later when Mr Stevens returned from the coast he sought to secure possession of the cow, but was refused. He replevined the cow in the justice court, and the animal was replevined by Mr. Smith. Mr. Stevens then brought suit for the value of the animal and won the case. An appeal was taken successively to the county and district courts and each time a decision was secured by the plaintiff. The case was then carried to the court of appeals and upon a technicality was remanded to the district court for a new trial. Again the verdict was in favor of Mr. Stevens and again the defendant carried the case up.

AMUSEMENTS

TONIGHT THE MARIE FOUNTAIN COMPANY.

Tonight at the Opera House the Marie Fountain Company, Eastern, will open their engagement. The company will appear in the beautiful pastoral drama, "The Minister's Wife."

The play is written in four acts. "The Minister's Wife" has been having a successful run in the east; and tonight's performance will be its first production in this city.

New specialties will be introduced during the play thus making it continuous. Among them are charming Baby Lester, in her singing and dancing specialties, F. W. Dunning, comedian, in a singing and dancing act and the Ward-Lester company in their novelty musical act.

Prices for the engagement are as follows. Night, 10c, 20c, 30c. Matinee, 10c and 20c.

"The Minister's Wife" will also be given Thursday matinee and night.

THE EMPIRE THEATER.

This week's performance has proven its claim to be a better show than last week's performance by the great patronage and the excessive applause. Every act this week is good and strong.

The Four Graceful Grohs are maintaining their reputation by doing an act which has never been approached in vaudeville before in Colorado no matter what the circuit might be. They do all of the work that any one else in their line does and add some remarkable feats and all are done with such grace and easiness that it is pleasure to watch the act.

The musical act of Kenton & Loraine is perhaps as big a drawing card as has been in this theater. Their music is varied to suit everyone's taste and the whole act is full of excellent and clever musical novelties.

The other numbers on the bill are good and worth seeing. Crowded houses have been the rule so far and will undoubtedly remain the rule until the end of the week.

ROBBS GAMBLERS STRUCK ARREST

The warrants were sworn out and given to Constable Thrasher to serve with the result that W. R. Mitchell, Forest Hall, [illegible] A. Rome were located in this city yesterday by H. J. Skinner in [illegible]. The warrant charges them with forcibly entering the armory and taking therefrom some [illegible] ammunition, some army blankets, four infantry overcoats, two hand saws and one hand axe, the property of the government, and two sparring mitts, the property of Company I. All of the young men are members of Company D, Second Regiment, and have been [illegible] the state on duty a good portion of their time for several weeks.

Justice Philp fixed the bond of each man at $500 and set their cases for hearing on May 9. The complaint is the outcome of trouble between some of the men of Company D and the quartermaster of Company I. Some of the young men gave bond and were released.

DEBTS OF DEBT HAS BEEN LIFTED

MEMBERS OF FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH RAISE $2,000 TO PAY OFF BURDEN OF $1,400.

The mortgaged indebtedness which has hung as a cloud over the First Presbyterian church since the construction of the new church building in 1888 has at last been lifted. Subscriptions aggregating $2,000 were volunteered on the last two Sundays and this amount will not only pay off the entire debt of the church but will leave a balance of $600 to be placed in the fund already started for the building of a chapel at Ivywild.

When the church was built 17 years ago a mortgaged indebtedness of $15,000 was contracted and this amount has been lifted a little at a time for several years. Finally the debt was reduced to $1,400 and this amount was entirely cleared away by the action of the members at the services last Sunday and Easter Sunday.

The chapel to be built at Ivywild will cost between $1,000 and $1,500 and it is hoped that the money will be raised within a few months.

Wine of Cardui absolutely does cure sick women. I consider it the most valuable medicine, and it is the cheapest cure any sick woman can use, as it takes as a rule, only a few bottles to effect a complete and lasting cure, especially for and it for uterine or ovarian troubles, inflammation and ulceration, painful, profuse or scanty menstruation and it is a most valuable adjunct to use during the gestative period, insuring easy childbirth and speedy recovery.

It should have a place in every home as it is a true friend to women and I most heartily recommend it.

E. B. Buchanan.

Writer and Lecturer.

Dr. Mrs. Buchanan is an authority on the science of medicine and certainly appreciates the great work physicians are doing for the relief of sufferers. But this does not deter her from expressing her views in praise of Wine of Cardui.

Mrs. Buchanan's high intelligence and long and successful experience render her advice of great value. Wine of Cardui regulates menstruation, cures bearing-down pains and relieves suffering women of the pain and misery to which their sex is heir. You have the word of Dr. Buchanan and thousands of other eminent women that Wine of Cardui will completely cure you.

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui.
